August Update

Dear friends in Christ,

This past weekend we had a wonderful time with a supporting church in Edmonton, Alberta. On Tuesday, we arrived in Sherbrooke, Quebec, where we'll be staying for a month, reporting to churches and spending time with family. It is great to spend time with family and reconnect with friends where I grew up, though details of my French syntax are a little rusty as I have not lived here for 12 years now!

We're grateful for a profitable month of July, and grateful this whirlwind is behind us. I spent 20 days out of town over the 9 different travels we had during July. We're grateful that the two trips to the Dominican went quite well, and that we accomplished what we needed to. Latin administration tends to be complicated and have unexpected hoops one needs to jump through, and these travels were unusually uneventful.

By God's grace, our support and pre-visa application paperwork are progressing well, but we've been providentially hindered with some of the paperwork. Our support is at 93-94% between our committed and pledged support, so we're getting there. Then our different paperwork was all in time, lacking just the arrival of a few documents for us to proceed to translate a few things as a final step before being able to apply for our visas, and one of those documents we were waiting on arrived water damaged in the mail. Our children's consular report of birth abroad documents, which we had apostilled, arrived damaged by water and the water made the ink signature from the apostille bleed onto the report of birth document. When we received those two weeks ago, I immediately proceeded to apply for another copy. I don't remember the last time that we had mail be water damaged, and it happened to a paper that took a long time to process and that we needed for our visa timeline. God knows, is the truth we tell ourselves and rest in. I'll be following up on the progress of this paperwork to then apply for our visas as I can.

Grace and Peace,

Jeremie, Amy, and the kids
